Presidents Message

Ok, we're just starting the Yellowstone fly-in. Here a quick summary so far:

Plans were in place for some people to arrive Thursday, some Friday. Change of plan due to weather, everyone arrives Thursday. Tim and Toni scramble, hotels help out as much as they can, the FBO takes unexpected arrivals in stride.

The Abramsons and Salmons (coming from opposite directions) taxi up within minutes of each other, the Samojens make the trip in one hop from CMA to BZN, and the Landaus drive from their home in Sun Valley. Tim and Toni met everyone on the ramp, everybody checks in with the wonderful staff at Arlin's Aircraft Service, followed by a quick look at the Cashin's hangar.

We get together at Tim and Toni's Bozeman home for a few beverages, then head to dinner. Tanglewood. Good food, great service, and a delightful venue.

Friday: slept in, then headed to the Museum of The Rockies, home of a world-renowned dinosaur fossil collection. Its most prized specimen, Big Mike the T-Rex, is on loan to the Smithsonian in Washington D.C., but the collection is still quite amazing. Snack and wine again at the Cashin home, introduction to some of their long-time Bozeman friends, dinner, and call it an early night.

A 7:00 a.m. departure, heading to Yellowstone. Stay tuned

CLUB PICNIC—8/10/19

Our annual club picnic at Freedom Park in Camarillo was a lot of fun. Tony and Elena Samojen hosted, and did a great job. Stonefire Grill catered the event with salads, tri-tip, chicken and pizza, with watermelon and cookies for dessert. Airventurers are getting older and seem to have out-grown egg tossing and water ballooning, but everyone seemed to have a good time eating and talking,

FROM THE EDITOR/TYPIST/PUBLISHER

My apologies for the lateness and brevity of the Flyer. Pain and the anti-dote make me a bit fuzzy.

Another 6 weeks and I'll be good to go.
